EMIL'S WORK.

One Man Tries to Block a Work in Which Thousands Are Interested.

There are probably 27,000 people in Wichita. Twenty-six thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine of this number are in favor of having Douglas avenue made a first-class street and one man is against it apparently. This is Emil Werner, the hard-core merchant. Yesterday he instituted injunction proceedings in the district court restraining the Barber Asphalt company from tearing up the asphaltic road in front of his lot on Douglas avenue east of the Union depot. He recites in his petition that the pavement is good, that he does not want any other kind, that the action of the city council in awarding the contract to the Barber Asphalt company is not legal and a whole lot of other stuff usually put into a petition of this kind. While the proceedings will probably amount to nothing except a bill of costs which Mr. Werner will have to pay, nevertheless they will upset the plans of the contractors. The contractors were almost ready to commence tearing up the asphaltic road at the place mentioned, but will now have to commence at the west end, and thus traffic must necessarily be abandoned for a few days west of Main street, as the asphaltic road already laid on the north side of the street is hardly hard enough yet for street traffic. Henry Schweitzer is on Mr. Werner's band.

CITY TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

On Decoration Day last the Wichita Tennis club held a tournament on their new grounds corner Eleventh and Topeka open to all comers for the championship of the city in singles.

Twelve young men entered, most of them being members of the club. Play did not commence till afternoon on account of muddy courts, though it was nearly completed when rain stopped further progress, leaving several matches unplayed. These have been played off during the evenings since, and Tuesday evening John Kelly and Ben Answall played off the deciding set in the finals, in the presence of a number of members and friends of the contestants.

The play throughout was extremely close and exciting, being the most brilliant seen in Wichita for many a day. Nearly every game being a duce game of unplayed length.

Each contestant having already won a set felt that he must do his best work to win. Several times during the long set, one player was within a point of winning yet could not get that coveted point. The set and match was finally won by John Kelly after a most brilliantly played duce game, the score being 15-11. The contest was one of the most exciting seen in the city.

By winning this match Mr. Kelly became the champion of Wichita and received the Sears special racket offered as a prize by one of the tennis enthusiasts of the city.

The Wichita Tennis club is a new organization composed of the members of the old Leavenworth Tennis club and a number of other players of the city. The members are urged to be present at the annual meeting next Saturday evening at the office of the Rock Island Lumber company at which time officers will be elected for the ensuing year, and action taken regarding the championship tournament to be held July 4, also. It will be decided whether to have the state league meet here at the time of their annual summer tournament in August.

STRUCK OIL.

A Peculiar Discovery—What Does It Mean?

Yesterday Mr. D. J. Reber, who resides near Lorenza, just across the Butler county line on the Frisco railroad, was in the city and reported at the Eagle office a discovery that was made last week on the farm of Wm. League, adjoining Reber's and about half a mile from the station named. Mr. League was engaged in sinking a well for the purpose of securing water for his stock, and when down about thirty feet suddenly there burst out a strong hissing sound, and similar to the escaping steam of a locomotive, at the same time a perceptible vapor arising from the well. This caused the diggers to stop for awhile, but no further development occurring other than the noise, which continued without diminishing in volume. The well sunk to a depth of sixty feet when a strong vein of water was developed. The water rose to a depth of twenty-five feet. The hissing sound ceased but in its stead a heavy thumping noise like that produced by the air pump on a locomotive, and with each vibration the water in the well was considerably agitated, almost equal to a boiling pot.

No odor is emitted from the well, nor does the water contain any peculiar taste or color when fresh drawn, though after standing for a while a well defined oily scum collects on the surface very like crude petroleum, and vegetables cooked in the water taste as strong of coal oil as if a quantity had been put in the vessel.

Mr. League does not apprehend that there is anything of value attached to the discovery, but the circumstances enumerated above indicate the possibility of the existence of valuable oil, mineral or natural gas deposits in the vicinity. Having secured what he wanted after a supply of stock water—stock drink, the water when fresh drawn—Mr. League does not think of prosecuting the search further, but others will no doubt take the matter in hand and prospect to the extent the circumstances and developments may warrant.

A WICHITA MAN HURT.

The west-bound Frisco passenger train which left this city at 6 o'clock Monday evening collided with a stock train at a point one and a half miles south of Butler yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock. The engineer and fireman of the stock train were killed. Several other trainmen were seriously injured. Engineer Gates of the passenger train was badly hurt and will probably die. His fireman, George Benson, sustained severe injuries from the scalding waters. Conductor Washburne who had charge of the passenger train and who is well known in this city escaped injury. Baggageman Wagner was thrown violently against the side of his car and was injured. Conductor Clark of the stock train attempted to jump and was seriously hurt.

He is a son of Jeweler Frank Clark of Commercial street, this city. His father left last night for the scene of the wreck. None of the passengers were hurt, and the damage to the trains is not reported large. Seven car loads of cattle, however, belonging to the stock train were killed and mangled. All trains on the Frisco will be delayed several hours until the track can be cleared.

The responsibility of the disaster has not yet been located. The injured men reside in Monett and Paris. Springfield Democrat.

Mr. Wagner, the baggageman above referred to, lived here three or four years. He left here last year and went to Springfield, where he obtained the position of baggageman. George Benson never lived here, but he ran in here often and is well known among Santa Fe and Frisco train men.

W. E. Stanley, wife and Harry, the Misses Mason, Miss Mills, Miss Clark, Miss Muir, Miss Heller, Mr. McMichael and Dr. Furtley and wife started to Chicago yesterday.

QUITE AN EVENT.

An Immense Crowd Attend the Social at St. John's Church.

The social held last night in the St. John's Episcopal church, corner of Topeka and Third street, was a great success from a social standpoint.

The crowd in attendance was large and was drawn from the best elements of the community. The Methodist, the Catholic, the Hebrew, the Lutheran and the Presbyterian met there together apparently divested of all denominational prejudices and went hand in hand in the enjoyments of the occasion.

The social was not for pay, it was absolutely free and refreshments were dispensed with the characteristic hospitality of the Episcopalians. A dozen young ladies of the church with each other in dispensing ice cream and cake and those who refused to partake were "not in" for the refreshments were certainly first-class. The beselement of the church was given up to this feature of the program while the upstairs or main body of the church was given up to conversation and those pleasant exchanges of greeting and compliment which are characteristic of an informal church reception.

The decorations were superb and elaborate and consisted of all kinds of flowers and plants known to the cultured houses of Wichita. There were some wild flowers and plants also, and all were arranged very tastefully. The lights were complimented highly for their arrangements. There are probably 100 incandescent lamps in the building and they are arranged in groups in such a manner as to reflect light on everything. In other words it will be impossible for a worshiper to stand in his own light in St. John's church when it is ready for services. If one can't read his prayer book by the light of one group of lamps he can do so by another. It required taste and no small amount of science to arrange the lights in this manner and when they were turned on last night for the first time Superintendent O'Neill of the Citizens company was proud of the work.

Thomas Shaw's orchestra was present and furnished its most elegant music for the occasion. The Gilmore of Wichita knew that he had a critical audience in that fashionable throng and he did his best to please them. Beck's imitation of a clog dance, performed with his drum sticks, was quite a feature of the musical program and it was highly appreciated. Taking the social by individual features as well as a whole it was a grand success and the Episcopalians are to be congratulated on it.

St. John's church is not yet completed, but it is progressing rapidly and will soon be ready for worship. It has advanced far enough, however, to show that it will be one of the most handsome church edifices in the southwest when the work of the builder and the artist will have been completed.

AROUND POLICE HEADQUARTERS.

Frank Kelly was run in last night, charged with being drunk, and J. T. Gibbons was brought in on the same charge and with disturbing the peace, as an additional cause.

There is still more trouble around the headquarters, and John Fisher threatens to resign, and all because there are cockroaches in the building. Fisher says that there is any one beast he abhors more than another, it is cockroaches, and his resignation is being made ready. He cites as authority for this action the case of Judge Foster of the United States district court, who, in 1878, he came to Wichita. He held court several years ago, found cockroaches at the hotel, and immediately adjourned court, shook the cockroaches from his clothes, and went back to Topeka. While John was telling all this to a reporter last night and making known his firm determination to resign, Huls Cone came in. Huls Cone said, "I'll pledge you my word, and I'll give there wasn't a beetle of that description in the house till John Fisher came. Now, mind, I don't say he brought 'em here, but I just state the fact." This settled the roach business, and the resignation will be withheld.

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

The First Baptist church will have their anniversary and roll call this evening at 7:30 o'clock. This is a custom, beautiful and unique, established by the present pastor, Rev. Ellis M. Jones, in 1880, in purpose of bringing the membership together in an anniversary meeting, to hear reports from all departments of the church's work and thus inform the membership of the work done during the closing year. The roll of membership is called, and each member is expected to answer to his or her name; if it is impossible for him to be present they are expected to write to the church. The church covenant is read, which is an impressive part of the service. The exercises are interspersed with good music by the choir and congregation. At the close of the program an hour is given to social converse and handshaking, and partaking of refreshments.

Such will be the character of the meeting held by the First Baptist church of our city this evening, in their place of worship, the Young Men's Christian association auditorium.

FAIRMOUNT.

Arrangements are perfected with the street car company for the accommodation of all desiring to visit Fairmount tomorrow evening. The program promises to be very exceedingly interesting. Several novel and unique attractions will be on the boards.

A lot of Wichita people are showing the country what style is at the world's fair—Kansas City Star.

Well, they can just do that, you bet.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Christman are at home to their friends any evening and Sunday afternoons at 506 South Topeka avenue.

The notice in yesterday's Eagle in relation to assessing judgments had the desired effect. The rush began early and kept up late. It was like a rush for dry goods at some of the sales, the merchants have, and the object was the same—to save money. The commissioners hardly found time to go to dinner. They had only one question to ask: "Must I pay taxes on these judgments if I don't release them?" "Yes, sir," was the response. Then they went up stairs and released and released. Will Ayres said that for a few hours the district clerk's office was overrun with men releasing judgments.

The Baptist Ladies' Missionary society held a business meeting at the home of Mrs. Pittenger, 25 North Topeka avenue yesterday p. m. Much work was accomplished, and the ladies laid out a program for increased work and efficiency in the good cause.

There isn't a man in town who will envy the postmaster his position for the next month. And the present one will probably see the wreck come and go to Chicago, or to the world's fair.

Miss Annie L. Oliphant is seriously ill with brain fever at the home of her parents on East Pearl street.

AFTER THE BANDITS.

Soldiers and Scouts on the Trail of the Cimarron Robbers.

A cattleman who came up from Woodward, I. T., last night said that Amos Chapman, the noted scout attached to Camp Supply and a party of soldiers, arrived at Woodward yesterday morning, having in charge two horses abandoned by the Cimarron train robbers, owing to the hot chase given them. Some deputy marshals were still left on the trail and it was expected that they would soon capture the desperadoes, as the indications were that the robbers' horses were very tired.

The soldiers and scouts pursued the robbers to the north line of the old Cheyenne and Arapaho reservation where they were compelled to give up the chase, owing to the fact that the limits of their orders had been reached. It seems their orders were to return to the post by noon yesterday and in order to comply with them they had to give up the pursuit at the time they did. He said that the pursuers told some very exciting stories about the chase and that they would undoubtedly capture the robbers if they were permitted to remain out twenty-four hours longer.

Last night the following dispatch was received from Camp Supply:

The Cimarron train robbers crossed the Santa Fe at Whitehead Monday at 3 p. m. The first news the commanding officer received of this was by telegram at 6 p. m. Monday. He sent cavalry in pursuit at 7 p. m., and they followed as far as the law permits to the Indian Territory line. Part of the time the robbers abandoned two horses with equipments and coats. They are now south of the strip in the north Cheyenne country, practically dismounted and followed by men from Oklahoma who know them. The robbers are not part of any organized gang.

INDIAN VISITORS.

Three Indians were passengers on the north-bound train last night. They were from the land of the Sioux and were at Durango visiting. The party consisted of two middle-aged men and a patriarch who was their father. Sixteen years ago when a party of northern Cheyennes were transferred to the Indian Territory there was a comely maiden among them. "Black Bird," whose brother committed suicide a few years ago near Caddo Springs, a young son of the Sioux tribe was in love with Black Bird and after the removal of her tribe he became a love sick that he deserted the warlike Sioux and vended his way toward the Indian Territory to sue for the hand of Black Bird. He was disappointed, but it was concluded that if he married her he must win the tribe and live the life of a Cheyenne. He did so and the passengers on last night's train were his two brothers and his father who had not seen him since he left the tribe in 1878. The old man's name was Black Bear while the sons have adopted the more Christian name of Saunders.

STOCK YARDS NOTES.

Colonel Runyon of Lexington, Ky., father of Asa Runyon, was at the yards yesterday.

Mr. Shepherd of Sharon was at the yards yesterday with a car of hogs and cattle.

Mr. Johnson of Atchita was at the yards yesterday with a mixed load of cattle and hogs.

A very satisfactory improvement noticeable at the stock yards is an ice cooler placed in the scale house by Superintendent Caldwell.

It was 100 in the shade at one time in the stock yards yesterday.

I. M. Horton of Caldwell had a load of cattle at the yards yesterday.

TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT.

The preliminary hearing in the case of the state against Officer Harry Sutton was concluded at 4 o'clock yesterday and the arguments made. Justice Keenan has taken the case under advisement and will render his decision some time this afternoon. Opinion is divided as to the probable result. The defense claim that if Mr. Keenan finds Sutton guilty the district court he will be released on a writ of habeas corpus.

The case created considerable interest and legions of men with low foreheads, who ought to have been at work, listened all day to the evidence on account of the Police Gazette line of the same.

RAIN MAKERS AT MEADE.

Everybody saw the big black clouds that came up from the southwest last night and expected that they would bring a rain. They did not know, perhaps, that those clouds were probably caused by the rain-making experiments that were held in Meade county yesterday under the direction of the Rock Island company's expert rain maker, Mr. Charles, traveling passenger agent for that road, who was in the city, stated that the rain-making tests were undoubtedly the cause of the clouds appearing and offered to bet that it was then raining heavily in Meade county. He has the strongest possible faith in the rain-making system of the company.

ANOTHER HOT DAY.

Yesterday was another warm day. Light umbrellas were seen everywhere. Mother Hubbards were in great demand at home by wives and daughters and everywhere. People stopped in the shade and mopped their brows, and once more started on their journey, wishing they were home. It was so hot that Emil Werner got out an injunction on the asphalt people, thinking they were the cause of the heat because they had a fire on the street. But about seven o'clock a change occurred and the evening was a delightful one.

BROKE THREE RIBS.

Thomas Stevens of Atchita township while coming to town yesterday fell from a load of hay about six miles west of town and broke three ribs. The broken ribs were thought that he was injured internally, but a medical examination abated the fears of that kind. The team he was driving became frightened at a moving machine and turning short the wagon was upset.

FINE CROPS.

A gentleman who came up from Wellington yesterday stated that he saw fields of corn all along the line that were as fine as he has ever seen in Kansas. He states that the outlook is very encouraging for a large yield.

BOB NEFF DISCHARGED.

Officer Bob Neff of the Metropolitan police force has been discharged from office and patrolman John Fisher has taken his place. It is said that some other officers will soon be discharged and many of them are shaking in their boots in anticipation of being the unlucky ones.

Mothers, Earle Blake, Mose Anderson, Will Ayres, O. G. Catron, with the Misses E. Benn, M. McKibbin, Lida and Little Benn, formed a party who were to go to Fairmount last evening for a picnic. The night was beautiful and the voices of the merry crowd drew all the birds for a mile, or more, and the woods fairly quivered with girl and bird music vying each with the other for sweetness. "The male quartette wasn't in it but enjoyed themselves nevertheless."

ODDS AND ENDS.

The following sightseers left yesterday for the world's fair: Mr. and Mrs. Lintee, Mrs. Scott Rusk, Misses Lydia Mills, Jessie Clark, Anna Mason, Edna Mason, Anna Mulvey, Florence Mulvey, H. S. McKim, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Noble, Mrs. Will Granger, Misses Jekyl, Mabel Ayers, M. P. Barnes, Mrs. St. Clair, Miss Lydia Howard and Miss Sittler.

Jim Antim, who has been in the Presbyterian hospital at Chicago for several weeks, has returned home in excellent health and thoroughly cured.

A. S. Ellis, a merchant of Cicero, was a visitor in the city yesterday and reports business in his little city very satisfactory.
